and the JCS. Under such an arrangement recipients would be the Assistant Secretary of State for NEA Affairs, and higher policy echelons in State, the Under Secretary of Defense or such person as he may designate by name, and the JCS (such officer as may be designated by the Chairman of the JCS). Material in this category would not be normally disseminated to the Service intelligence agencies in the absence of specific authorization. It is the DD/P's understanding that any field dissemination of the type of information considered in this sub-paragraph shall be on an "Eyes Only" basis to State Department Chiefs of Mission. Counter-acting measures by the opposition are, of course, to be treated as intelligence and disseminated as such.

c. Routine dissemination should apply only to information which does not reveal either directly, or by too close implication, the operational plans, preparations and activities of friendly governments.

d. Guidances to the field governing collection activities bearing upon [ ] should also be carefully considered and passed upon at the policy level noted in a. above.

e. In respect to the collection activities and reporting of other US intelligence agencies, it is considered that there should be a uniform policy in this regard in respect to [ ]. Without such a policy, CIA's efforts to insure the security of highly sensitive information may well be wasted. It is recommended that this matter be discussed with the other Government departments concerned to arrive at a uniform policy in this regard.

f. If the Director concurs in these recommendations, it is proposed to discuss them with appropriate representatives of the Departments of State, Defense and the JCS, with a view to assuring their implementation.
